is as follows:

Be it Resolved, That the President be, and he is hereby authorized and empowered to invite negotiations looking to the assimilation and unity of the people of the Dominion of Canada and the United States under one Government; such unity and assimilation to be based upon the admission of the general Provinces of the Dominion, or any one of them, into the Union of States upon the same terms and equality with the several States composing the Union, and the assumption by the United States of the indebtedness of the Dominion of Canada, or a just proportion thereof, and such other equitable terms and conditions as justice to the high contracting parties may demand.

Resolved, That with a view to such negotiations, the President invite the appointment of Commissioners by the Government of Great Britain and the Dominion of Canada to consider the wisdom and expediency of settling and adjusting all the controversies and differencies which now exist between the two Governments, growing out of the fisheries, or otherwise, by such union and assimilation as is hereinbefore suggested, either as to the whole, or any Province, or several Provinces of said Dominion. Such negotiations to be conducted with due regard to the amicable relations which obtain between Great Britain and the United States and the obligations imposed thereby.

and plunged into the ring with a "Here we are again!" exclamation that dismayed his grave and reverend colleagues. Impelled by artificial stimulation, and imaginproposition of the last session to consider the British extradition treaty in open ses-sion, he interrupted first Senator Cook and then Senator Vance in their learned discourses upon the iniquities of the protective tariff. The Senator from North Carolina became weary of Riddleberger's interjections into his speech for the consumption of North Carolina cotton-growers, and demanded the protection of the ers, and demanded the protection of the Chair from further interruptions.

Mr. Berry occupied the presiding official's seat temporarily, and Riddleberger belligerently declined to state his point of order until Mr. Vance—who was entitled to the floor—took his seat. Vance declined to assume a sitting position, and Senator Berry decided, very properly, that Riddleberger was out of order.

The Virginia Senator very snappishly and incoherently declared that this decision was made because the presiding officer knew no better.

down, and the North Carolina Senator continued his speech, only again to be inter-rupted a moment later by Riddleberger, who insisted that in the morning hour his motion on the extradition treaty should have precedence of the tariff discussion. The Chair promptly overruled this point of order, and peremptorily ordered the Virginian to take his seat. Riddleberger remained standing.

"If the Senator does not take his seat," said Mr. Ingalls, with severe deliberation. "the Chair will call upon the Sergeant-at-Arms to enforce the rules of the Senate." There was a momentary pause, in which Riddleberger was the target of observation from everybody on the floor and in the gal-leries, and, realizing that the danger limit had been reached, he marched to the rear of the chamber and retired into the lobby. Vance finished his seat, but subsequently when Jones of Arkansas had the floor Riddleberger renewed his point of order, and alluded to Ingalls as having threatened to "call in the police." He was again directed to be in order, and obeyed the Chair. Subsequently he presented a resolution for the reorganization of the Senate after the holiday recess, which was laid

To-night the irate Virginian said that he would vote for a Democrat for presiding officer, to depose Ingalls.

THE DIRECT TAX BILL AGAIN.

DECEMBER 14. 1888

The "direct tax" bill has at last gone to the President for approval. The Democratic party enjoys the unenviable distinc tion of having cast all the negative vote against the measure. The amount payable under the bill to California is $254,-538 67. The direct tax levied upon all the States by the Federal Government ernment in January, 1863, credited California with $495 72 on account of the Modoc Indian war claims, leaving still take the quietude of the Halifax officials with the present Administration, yet it is fair to take the quietude of the Halifax officials due $6,497 54. This, deducted from the $38,180 80, left due to California $31,-583 26 on the rebate, which was paid as already stated. This allowance was granted to California notwithstanding she assumed the costs and charges of collecting the tax, which was a direct lien upon the

There is a curious bit of history connected with this rebate worth recalling: We collected of our people $70,932 56 of the direct tax in gold prior to the last that which they can more speedily and date of limitation but our State Treasurer converted the gold into greenbacks and tendered it to the United States Sub-Treasurer who refused to accept it in currency, and the contention that followed carried us past the last date of limitation. Our Treasurer claimed a 10 per cent. relate because the collection was made before expiration of the limitation, deducted it and finally paid over to the United States $63,839 31, and we thus became indebted to the United States $7,093 26, because the Federal Government decline to recognize our system of bookkeeping, holding that the money should have been actually paid over in the character as collected prior to the expiration of the limitation under which we would be entitled to 10 per cent. off.

Some of the States took the ground that the levy of the tax was unconstitutional and in fact of the $20,000,000 demanded but $17,359,685 ever was collected. Through a great deal of attempted legislation and much wrestling with the Treasury Department of the Federal Government, California finally secure a settlement of her account, and a balance was struck. It is intimated, now that the bill of allowance has passed both houses, that the President will veto it. It is not clear what ground he will assume for the action. In equity the money should be refunded, and if it is not done by reason of the President's veto, the Federal Government will be guilty of an act of injustice towards the States that will, in case it ever needs to make another call, render it a very difficult task.

SAN FRANCISCO ELECTION FRAUDS.

In the recount of the municipal election vote in San Francisco, now progressing before the Superior Court, remarkable discrepancies between the official and the recount have developed. It is amazing that in going over less than fifty precinct returns nearly three hundred miscounts should be found. The Court before which the proceeding is had has already declared that there is no explanation of the matter possible except upon the theory of premeditated and outrageous fraud. The Judge declares that it has already been proved to his satisfaction that election officers called off wrong names by the score purposely, and that the tally clerks were thus made to credit candidates with votes they never received, and that were cast for their opponents. In two precincts O'Donnell, for Mayor, gained eighty votes in each, and in another seventy-five, by the recount, and in one other forty-one votes cast for him were not counted by the election officers at all. If in the large cities such monstrous frauds as these can be committed despite the watchfulness of the partisan inspectors who are permitted to watch the counting in the polling booths, the people have reason to doubt the possibility of securing, under our present system, a fair opportunity to express their will at the polls. If we must resort to a recount in Court in order to determine the true result of an election, may it not be better to have Court officials seal the ballot-boxes when the polls close, and transfer them at once to the custody of the Courts for announcement of the result? The outcry in San Francisco is "prosecute the election officers." But it will not be done, and for an obvious rea- the name of De Lesseps and its relation to son-conviction could not be had. THE result of the Boston school election may be taken as a protest against church interference with the common schools. It terference, however, in the Boston case that could be made a cause of grievance against church authorities. Technical constructions of text expression regarding sale of indulgences and the history of the Inquisition appears to have been the cause bit of theological hairsplitting. Still so far as it goes, it will be recorded as a verdict of a city, among the foremost for inteligence, against the introduction of religious issues into common school instruction. The Protestant objectors to the action of school board in excluding a text-book held to be objectionable by Catholics, secured a victory. It should not lead to further contention however. Let the defenders of the school system be content to guard it from all encroachment that assails its nonsectarian character, but beyond that it is not wise to carry the contest. The schools

The most organized society has done in this State to prevent the making of criminals out of dependent and neglected children has been the establishment of an Industrial School that is a disgrace to civilization, and by all who have examined into its results is pronounced to be a criminal factory.

Mr. Hart stated as his reasons for asking the postponement that his client was another illustration of the adage that misfortunes never come singly. Orange Growing in Placer County. An enormous cluster of beautiful large oranges has been received at this office from J. W. Smyth, of Horseshoe Bar, on the American river, six miles south of Newcastle and about the same distance east of Loomis. Mr. Smyth says: "The tree npon which they grew is twenty-seven years old and a seedling. It has been bear-ing fifteen years, affording a large crop every year. There are about 3,000 oranges on the tree at this time. I believe the tree is one of the oldest, if not the oldest orange tree in Placer county. You can see that orange-growing in Northern California is no longer in any sense an experiment, but an honest and fully demonstrated practi-cal fact. I have several large seedling from this older tree, which are now twelve years old, and are now bearing full as well in proportion to age and size of trees as the one I have described."

knew anything about it here, and very ittle information concerning it could be the demands for more school accommoda gained. It presented last night "Chip o' the Old Block" to a good house—the storm ered. The audience departed entirel satisfied. The play is a light musica comedy with the very faintest suggestion f a plot, but still a plot, which seven enths of the musical comedy productions have not. The play is the slightest o frames to inclose some capital character actors and singers. Scott and Mills are both good light comedians, original and vivacious and made friends of the audience with an elegrant jewel emblematic of her trans. at once. Miss Bonstelle is a handsome graceful and engaging soubrette, singing well, dancing better, a good mimic and possessed of strong dramatic talent that promises a great deal for her. Though she is so unfortunate in head-gear as to make When the case of ex-policeman George up in appearance as a woman twice her age, charged with battery, was called, his such is an exceedingly clever and promis-ing comedy actress of strong personal magnetism. The quintet of the company is an excellent one and was encored last evening over and over again Helen Norton is capable in a rather thank less part. Barney Reynolds is an excellent character actor, versatile and full of quaint humer. The heavy man of the company is weak, and Miss LaPell, his support, makes no favorable impression as to her son's capacity. But these are minor characters hard. and cut a small figure in the evening's en-tertainment. The performance is clean, sparkling, novel, full of merriment, song and dance and witty repartee, and is ninety per cent. better than anything in the farce-comedy line we have had here for a long time, except Daniel's "Little Puck," and which still was objectionable in matters this company and piece avoids. A second performance this evening.

EDUCATIONAL.

Schools Visited by State Superintendent Holtt in Southern California.

Ira G. Hoitt, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, returned yesterday from a visit to the State Normal School and High School at Los Angeles, and the Ventura county Teachers' Institute, which met at San Buenaventura. Mr. Hoitt expresses I San Buenaventura. Mr. Hoitt expresses San Buenaventura. Mr. Hoitt expresses himself as well pleased with the condition of the State Normal School, and says the training department connected with the school is doing excellent work. The Los Angeles High School, under the Principalship of F. H. Clerk, ranks among the best, but the school is sadly in need of better accommodations. The Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county has given County Superintendent Seaman a deputy, at a salary of $1,200 per annum, and with 400 and more teachers in the county, both Superintendent and deputy have all the work they can attend to.

"The Ventura county Institute," says Mr. Hoitt, "was attended by nearly all the teachers of that county, and the disposition to appear to good advantage in the work done at the Institute was very marked on the part of both Superintendent Meredith and at the Institute was very marked on the part of both Superintendent Meredith and his teachers. Nowhere have I seen a better spirit manifested, or more disposition to ter into a discussion of the philosophy of education, and the application of natural and scientific methods of developing the mind of the child. San Buenaventura has just completed a $30,000 school-house, which is one of the handsomest and most commodious I have seen. The educational boom seems to have kept abreast of all other booms in Southern California, except that in some localities it has been almost impossible for the people to keep up with

A CALIFORNIA SENSATION. [Petaluma Courier.]

It is reported that the sales of the "California Remedy," Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, have really sensational. The way the fame of this production has spread is simply marvelous. Six months ago it was unknown. To-day it is all over the country. It is authoritatively stated that they have been actually giving it away in San Francisco to people afflicted with dyspepsia, sick headaches, indigestion and liver troubles, not to be paid for unless it cured. Such practical tests are so startlingly convincing as to be almost sensational. It is stated that two of the active principles of the new remedy belong to the vegetable kingdom of California and are so well known to us all under common names that it would surprise us if told them. But we are not surprised at anything Californian, and this recent discovery of the new medicinal virtues of its vegetable kingdom is but another instance of the astonishing possibilities of a soil and climate
